

Anastasia Milaya

Junior research assistant of Laboratory for Social Studies of Education and Science,
State University Higher School of Economics – St. Petersburg
16, Soiuza Pechatnikov Street, St. Petersburg 190008
E-mail: Anastasia.milaya@gmail.com

Research interests

Sociology of childhood (neglected children), social policy, children protection

Education

- 2007-pr.t. European University at Saint Petersburg (Russia), Department of Political Science and Sociology. Expected degree: Ph.D. in Sociology
- 2006-2007 European University at Saint Petersburg (Russia), department of political science and sociology, Master of Arts (Sociology). Diploma has been validated by the Faculty of Social Sciences of University of Helsinki, Finland, 2007
- 2001-2006 Tver State University (Russia), Department of Management and Sociology, higher education degree

Projects

Co-coordinator of the project ‘Neglected children: life and education trajectories in context of social and education policy’ as part of the research into social mobility in local area.

Fellowships and grants

- Oct 2008 – June 2009 Progemi stipends (project ‘Social Control System over Child Prostitution in Border zone’)
- Sep-Nov 2008 TEMPUS, Helsinki, Finland. (project ‘Compare Russian and European Union Orphans’ Social Policy’)
- Jun-Jul 2008 mini-grant for field works from Department of Political Science and Sociology, EUSPb
- Jun 2005 Summer school in social science methodology, EUSPb (project ‘Russian Orphans’ Social Policy’)

Conferences

- Oct 2008 Third All-Russian Sociological Congress, Moscow, Russia. Report ‘Construction of Orphan’s Social Status in Temporal Child House’

Articles

‘Социальное конструирование сиротства в приюте (на примере Социально-реабилитационного центра для несовершеннолетних г. Твери)’ // Материалы III Всероссийского социологического конгресса. М.: Институт социологии РАН, Российское общество социологов, 2008 (ISBN 978-6-89697-157-3)